Section 1 - The Basics

1. What is the SHARES plan and how does it benefit me?

SHARES is Unilever's global employee share plan, which provides eligible employees with an easy way to save money each month to buy Unilever shares. The Company will give you one share free for every three you buy. Buy 3, get 1 free! It is an exciting opportunity for you to own part of Unilever and to make a long-term investment for your future.

If you decide to join SHARES you can save cash monthly from your salary. This will be used to buy Unilever shares each quarter.

At the end of each quarter, the company will award you a right to receive one free share for every three shares you purchase. You must hold on to the shares you purchase for 3 years and then the free shares are yours to keep.

2. Am I eligible to participate in SHARES?

Employees at Work Level 1 (including reduced hour employees) are generally eligible if they are:

- a. working in a country that has implemented SHARES
- b. active employees tracked in the Workday system with an email address and internet access
- c. not internationally mobile (apart from Short Term Home Based Assignments)
- d. not a contractor, intern or temporary employee (unless required to be included by local law)
- e. not excluded from participation for other reasons by the company.

If you are eligible to join SHARES, you will receive an invitation via email.

3. If I become eligible for SHARES after the enrolment period opens, can I join SHARES before the next annual enrolment period?

No, you will have to wait until the next annual enrolment period in November for participation in SHARES starting the following January.

4. How does SHARES work?

- Eligible employees will be invited to join SHARES each November.
- You can decide how much you want to save to buy Unilever shares - It is completely your choice!
- You can save between EUR 10 (minimum) to EUR 200 (maximum) or an equivalent amount in your local currency each month to purchase Unilever shares quarterly. These shares are called "Investment Shares".
- The minimum and maximum monthly contribution limits are set in Euros each year and, if appropriate, they are converted to local currency before the enrolment period opens.
- Payroll will deduct the contribution amount (in your local currency) that you decide to invest in SHARES from your after-tax salary (unless local law requires a different process).
- After each quarterly investment period, Unilever will award you the right to receive one Match Share for every three Investment Shares you have purchased.
- Three years after receiving the right to Match Shares, you will receive one free Unilever share for every Match Share right, provided you have not sold or transferred the Investment Shares you have purchased.
- You can opt out and stop future share purchases at any time.
- You can sell or transfer the Investment Shares that you have purchased at any time. However, if you sell or transfer them before the end of the 3-year vesting period, you will not receive free Match Shares.

5. How can I decide whether I should join SHARES?

The decision to participate in SHARES is up to you; it's entirely your choice. Because there is no way to predict the future value of Unilever shares, there is some risk. Therefore, you should carefully consider the potential risks and your personal financial situation, needs and goals.

We cannot advise you what to do. However, we can say that in effect SHARES allows you to purchase shares at a 25% discount (due to the SHARES Match). These are favourable purchase terms and this offer is only available to employees.

If you are interested in joining SHARES, please take the time to learn about this plan. Review these FAQs carefully, as well as other SHARES materials posted on the administrator website and on the Unilever SHARES website at www.shareinourfuture.com.

Visit the Unilever Investor Centre at www.unilever.com/investor-relations where you can find materials for investors about Unilever's performance, share price and dividend history, annual and quarterly reports, and other public notices to investors.

Section 2 - Joining SHARES

7. How and when can I join SHARES?

Your chance to enroll in our SHARES Plan is during the enrollment period in November. If you do not enroll this year the next opportunity to enroll is expected to be in November next year.

You will receive an invitation email from the administrator, which will provide easy step-by-step instructions to activate your SHARES account and to enroll in SHARES.

You can also find the most up-to-date information on SHARES, including the dates for enrollment periods and other key dates, on the SHARES website at www.shareinourfuture.com.

8. Can I still join SHARES if I missed the enrolment period?

No. If you have missed the enrolment period for your country, your next opportunity to enrol will be next November for participation in SHARES starting the following January.

9. Can I participate in SHARES if I don't have internet access?

All SHARES transactions (including enrolling) are best completed on the administrator website, for which you need access to the internet via a computer, tablet, or smart phone. If you do not have a computer, tablet or smart phone, you may be able to use a company computer.

If you need assistance getting computer or internet access, you can contact your Unilever People Partner or visit UNA Hub. Contact information is also provided on the SHARES website at www.shareinourfuture.com.

10. If I enrolled in SHARES, can I change the monthly contribution amount I elected?

You can only change your monthly contribution amount during the enrolment period each year. You can do this on the administrator website.

After the enrolment period closes, your contribution amount is fixed for the calendar year. Your next opportunity to change your monthly contribution amount is during the next annual enrolment period in November. However, you can 'opt out' of SHARES and stop making future investments at any time.

11. If I want to stop participating in SHARES, what should I do?

If you want to stop investing in SHARES, you can 'opt out' of SHARES at any time on the administrator website. If you opt out after the first of the month, your SHARES deductions from your salary will not stop until the following month.

After you opt out of SHARES, if you keep any shares you have purchased for 3 years, after the end of the 3-year vesting period, you will still get one free Match Share for every three shares you purchased (plus reinvested dividend equivalents earned on those Match Shares during the 3 years).

You can re-join SHARES in the future. You will be invited to enrol in SHARES during the next annual enrolment period in November, if you are still eligible to participate.

12. If I have already enrolled in SHARES, do I need to re-enrol every year?

Once enrolled and if eligible, you will be automatically re-enrolled for the same monthly contribution amount, unless the minimum and maximum contribution in your local currency has changed.

- If your current contribution amount is below the new minimum in your local currency, you will receive an email from Computershare, notifying you to enter a new monthly contribution amount.
- If your current contribution is above the new maximum in local currency it will automatically be reduced to the new maximum.

You can change the amount of your monthly contribution during the annual enrolment period every November.

13. If I am an 'Insider' on the Unilever Global Results Restricted List, do I need to obtain clearance to enrol in SHARES?

If you are an "Insider" on the Unilever Global Results Restricted List, you can only enrol in SHARES in an open period and when you are not in possession of Unilever Restricted Inside Information. Also, you need prior clearance to enrol in SHARES. This clearance will be obtained on your behalf by the Unilever Global Equity Team on the basis that, when you submit your SHARES enrolment election, you are confirming you are not in possession of Unilever Restricted Inside Information.

Section 3 - Contributing to SHARES

14. How much can I invest?

You can choose to invest between EUR 10 (minimum) to EUR 200 (maximum) per month or the equivalent in your local currency. Payroll will deduct the contribution amount that you select in your local currency from your salary, after taxes have been deducted.

Please note that in some countries, payroll deductions for this purpose are not legally permitted. In these countries, the company may require you to pay your SHARES contributions by other means.

You can see the monthly minimum and maximum contribution amounts in your local currency on the administrator website when you enrol or on the SHARES website at www.shareinourfuture.com.

Minimum and maximum contribution limits are set in Euros each year and, where appropriate, they are converted to local currency before the enrolment period opens using exchange rates on a given date published on the Unilever Controller's Department website.

To reduce the impact on SHARES participants, the company may decide to adjust the local currency minimum and maximum contribution amounts only where there has been a significant change from the Euro-to-local currency exchange rate previously used to set the current local currency minimum and maximum contribution amounts.

If you are paid on a weekly basis, the monthly contribution amount you select will be divided by four to calculate a weekly contribution amount, which will be deducted from your first four pay checks each month. If you are paid biweekly or semi-monthly, the monthly contribution amount you select will be divided by two, to calculate the bi-weekly or semi-monthly contribution amount, which will be deducted from each paycheck. If you are paid monthly, the entire contribution amount you select will be deducted from your paycheck each month.

15. How and when will I pay for my Unilever Shares?

Your contribution amounts to buy shares generally will be deducted from your salary or wages by payroll, after any taxes due have been deducted.

If you enrol in November, the first time payroll will deduct your SHARES contribution amount from your salary or wages will be the following January.

In countries where payroll deductions are not permitted for this purpose according to applicable laws, the company may decide to have you pay your SHARES contributions by other means.

16. How many shares will I purchase and how will foreign exchange rate and share price changes impact the number of shares I purchase?

The monthly contribution amount in your local currency will not change from month to month even if foreign exchange rates change.

Each month your contribution amount may need to be converted into the currency of the Unilever shares you are purchasing (i.e. GBP for Unilever PLC ordinary shares, EUR for Unilever PLC EUR ordinary shares, and USD for Unilever PLC ADR New York shares) using the closing month-end foreign exchange (FX) rates published on the Unilever Controller's Department website.

After the end of each quarter, the number of Investment Shares you purchase will equal the total share currency amount you have saved during the prior 3 months divided by the applicable Unilever share acquisition price. Because foreign exchange rates and share prices change constantly, the number of shares you will purchase at the end of each investment period will vary as well.

Your entire contribution amount will be used to purchase shares for you, and it is possible to receive fractional shares.

17. Will I be able to see my contribution savings balance and the shares I purchased?

Yes, every month your contribution amount will be posted on the administrator website – both in your local currency and converted to the Unilever share currency (GBP, EUR or USD) along with the applicable FX rates that were used to convert your monthly contribution amounts.

Please note that country payrolls may have different cut-off dates and run at different times. This means there may be a delay between when your country payroll runs and deducts your contribution amount from your salary or wages, and when you will see your contribution amounts posted on the administrator website.

After your Investment Shares have been purchased each quarter, the administrator will post the number of shares you purchased and the applicable share price on the date your shares were purchased.

18. What if I don't have enough after-tax salary or wages in a month to cover the monthly contribution amount I selected?

There may be some months when your after-tax salary or wages will not cover the monthly contribution amount you elected. This may be due to several reasons, such as work schedule changes or unpaid personal leaves. If that is the case, as long as your after-tax salary or wages is at or above the minimum monthly contribution amount of EUR 10 (or equivalent in local currency), it can be invested in Unilever shares that month, even if it is less than the monthly contribution amount you elected.

19. What if I don't have enough after-tax salary in a month to cover the minimum contribution amount?

If you do not have enough after-tax salary or wages in a specific month to invest the minimum monthly contribution amount of EUR 10 (or equivalent in your local currency), no deductions will be made from your salary for that month.

20. Can I ask for a cash refund of the contribution amounts that were deducted from my salary or wages before shares are purchased for me?

No, it is not possible to get a cash refund.

21. What happens if I leave Unilever or I give or receive notice that I'm leaving Unilever?

Future contributions in SHARES will stop after you leave Unilever or, if you give or receive notice of termination for any reason. You still will own all of the shares you purchased, and any reinvested dividend shares you earned. In addition, Unilever will still give your free Match Shares to you, provided you hold the shares you purchased for 3 years.

After leaving the Unilever Group (as defined in the SHARES Plan) and once your final Matching Award vests, you'll have three months to sell or transfer any shares held in your Computershare account. During this time, you will need to submit your instruction to Computershare as to what you want to do with your shares. If you do not respond before the specified deadline and your shares remain in your Computershare account after the three month deadline, you may be charged a fee by Computershare for the continuing use of the account, and you also understand that your shares may be sold on your behalf, and any sales proceeds may be sent to you (including by cheque to your last known address) or the Company can take any action considered necessary or desirable.

22. What happens if I am promoted to a Work Level 2 position?

If you are promoted to a Work Level 2 position, you can continue to invest in SHARES until 31 December of the year you are promoted, as long as you remain in your current country.

You also have the choice to stop investing in SHARES whenever you want. You can opt out of SHARES at any time on the administrator website.

Either way – if you decide to stay in SHARES until year-end or if you opt out of SHARES sooner, as long as you keep the shares you have purchased for 3 years, then after the end of the 3-year vesting period, you still will get one free Match Share for every three shares you purchased (plus reinvested dividend equivalents earned on your Match Shares during the 3 years).

23. What happens if I transfer to another country after I have enrolled in SHARES?

If you are on a short-term home-based assignment, your contributions will continue as normal. For other types of assignment please see below.

After you transfer to your new country, your SHARES contributions will cease. However, if you keep the shares that you have already purchased for 3 years, after the end of the 3 year vesting period, you still will get one free Match Share for every three shares you purchased (plus reinvested dividend equivalents earned on your Match Shares during the 3 years).

When you transfer to another country on a short-term host based assignment, your contributions will cease while you are on the assignment, but after you permanently transfer back to your home country, starting in January, your SHARES contributions will automatically start up again.

If you permanently transfer to a country where we have launched SHARES and you are on local terms, you can re-enrol in SHARES during the next enrolment period.

24. What happens if I go on an unpaid leave after I have enrolled in SHARES?

If you do not receive salary or wages because you are on an unpaid leave of absence, you cannot continue to make contributions to purchase shares (unless applicable law requires that employees on leave be offered alternative means to pay their contribution amounts). However, your SHARES contributions can resume if you return to work and start receiving salary or wages again.

You will still own all the shares you purchased before your leave of absence plus any additional reinvested dividend shares you earn. Unilever will still give your free Match Shares to you, if you continue to hold the shares you purchased for 3 years.

Section 4 - My Unilever Shares and Tax Implications

25. What are shares and what does it mean to be a Unilever shareholder?

When you buy Unilever shares, you become a shareholder - one of the owners of our company. As an owner, you are entitled to receive dividends and have your vote counted at Unilever shareholder meetings. The amount of dividends you can earn and the votes you can make increases with every additional share you own.

As a company's value grows, the value of shares can grow too. Of course, the value of your shares can vary – going up or down in value – depending on several factors, including how Unilever performs and the way the stock market reacts to the company's performance, as well as market factors such as currency fluctuation.

26. How do I know what Unilever SHARES I own, where they are traded, and how can I track the share price for my shares?

The type of Unilever shares you receive is based on the country where you work.

You will receive either Unilever PLC or Unilever PLC EUR ordinary shares, unless you live in the U.S., Canada or Puerto Rico. Unilever PLC EUR ordinary shares (ticker symbol: UNc.AS) are traded on the Euronext Amsterdam Stock Exchange (AEX) and have a Euro share price.

Unilever PLC ordinary shares (ticker symbol: ULVR.L) are traded on the London Stock Exchange (LSE) and have a GBP share price.

If you work in the U.S., Canada or Puerto Rico, you will receive Unilever PLC ADR New York shares (ticker symbol: UN), which are traded on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) and have a USD share price.

You can also find the share type for your country on the SHARES website at www.shareinourfuture.com.

You can track Unilever share performance over time at the Unilever Investor Centre website at <http://unilever.com/investorrelations>. You can access the Investor Centre website from the Unilever SHARES website at www.shareinourfuture.com.

27. What are Investment Shares and when will I receive them?

The contribution amounts you invest in SHARES each month are used to purchase Investment Shares quarterly. These shares will be added to your account at the end of the month following each quarter end in April, July, October and January.

Investment Shares are yours to keep. You can sell or transfer them whenever you want, but if you sell or transfer them before the end of the 3-year vesting period, you will not receive the corresponding free Match Shares.

Your Investment Shares will immediately have all the rights and privileges of a Unilever shareholder, including the right to receive dividends and to vote.

28. What are Match Shares and when will I receive them?

After the end of each quarterly investment period, the company will award you rights to Match Shares. For every share or partial share you purchase, you will receive Match Shares equal to one-third of the number of Investment Shares you purchase.

Three years after your Match Share rights were awarded, you will receive one free Unilever share for every Match Share right, provided you have not sold or transferred the Investment Shares you have purchased during the 3-year vesting period.

Even if you leave Unilever before the end of the 3-year vesting period, as long as you hold your Investment Shares for the 3-year vesting period, you will receive your free Match Shares.

29. What does 'vest', 'vesting date', and 'vesting period' mean?

You will be entitled to receive free Match Shares when your Match Shares 'vest' on the 'vesting date'. You must hold the Investment Shares you purchase during the 3-year 'vesting period' in order to receive your Match Shares. The 'vesting date' is the date your Match Share rights become actual shares that are yours to keep. The 'vesting date' is the third anniversary of the Match Share award date, which is the date each quarter when you were awarded your Match Share rights based on the number of Investment Shares you purchased at the end of the quarter. The 'vesting period' is the period of time from the award date until the 'vesting date'.

30. Can I sell or transfer the shares I purchase at any time?

Yes, you can sell or transfer the Investment Shares you purchased at any time. Do remember that if you sell or transfer them before the end of the 3-year vesting period, you will lose your corresponding free Match Shares.

31. If I sell or transfer my Investment Shares before the end of the 3-year vesting period, can I still stay in SHARES and invest in the future?

If you sell or transfer your Investment Shares before the end of the 3-year vesting period, you will lose your free Match Shares which correspond to the shares you sold or transferred. You will also lose any reinvested dividend equivalents earned on those Match Shares during the vesting period. However, you will still remain in SHARES and continue to invest in Unilever shares in the future, unless you opt out of SHARES altogether and stop making contributions to buy shares going forward.

Remember, if you decide to opt out of SHARES, you can re-enrol the next November during the next annual enrolment period.

32. How and when can I begin to vote my shares and earn dividends?

As a Unilever shareholder you are entitled to receive dividend payments and vote at Unilever shareholder meetings.

Voting rights:

As you acquire Unilever shares, you will have the right to have your vote counted at the Annual General Meeting for Unilever shareholders.

Dividend payments:

Unilever generally pays dividends each quarter to its shareholders. You will begin to receive dividend payments quarterly on your Investment Shares, starting with the first Unilever dividend payment after your first quarterly share purchase, as long as you are a shareholder of record on the dividend record date.

Outside the USA and Puerto Rico any dividends will be reinvested as additional Unilever shares. Within the USA and Puerto Rico the dividends will be deposited in your Fidelity Account every quarter; however, you can decide to have your dividends reinvested as additional Unilever PLC ADR shares. If you want to enrol in the dividend reinvestment program, call Fidelity.

Your dividends will be reinvested as additional Unilever shares based on the share price on the dividend payment date.

You will earn reinvested dividend equivalents on your Match Shares during the 3 years before they vest. They will be paid to you as additional Unilever shares, along with your vested Match Shares, as soon as possible after the end of the 3-year vesting period. Until your dividend equivalents are actually distributed in the form of additional Unilever shares, you will not see them in your SHARES account.

33. Will I owe tax on my Unilever shares, and if so, how will I pay my tax obligation?

The general tax treatment for your Investment Shares and Match Shares is described below, however, each country has its own local rules on how taxes should be calculated and paid. You are strongly encouraged to familiarise yourself with the tax materials provided by the company to help you understand your country's tax requirements and your personal tax obligations.

You should also check with your own personal financial and/or tax advisors about the tax implications of your participation in SHARES, and discuss with them the possibility of future changes in your country's tax laws, which could impact the applicable tax treatment.

Taxes due on your Investment Shares:

No tax should be due when you acquire your Investment Shares because you purchase your Investment Shares at market value with your after-tax salary or wages. Any actual dividends that are paid on your Investment Shares may be subject to tax.

Taxes due on your Match Shares:

In most countries, no taxes are due when your Match Shares are awarded to you at the beginning of the vesting period. However, if you are subject to US taxes, the value of your Match Shares will be subject to FICA (including Medicare) tax when your Match Shares are awarded. Payroll will withhold the FICA tax from your other compensation, and the FICA tax amount will be reflected in your pay-check as "additional taxes".

However, when the company gives you actual shares after the end of the 3year vesting period, in most countries, you will be subject to tax on the value of the shares that you receive (including dividend equivalents reinvested as additional Match Shares), at the time that you receive them.

Depending on your country, the company may need to report the value of your Match Shares (including dividend equivalents reinvested as additional Match Shares) to your country tax authorities and deduct income taxes and/or social security withholding due on those shares from your salary or wages via payroll. All of your vested Match Shares will be deposited in your SHARES account.

If you no longer work for Unilever when you receive your actual shares, the company may deduct any mandatory withholding taxes due from your vested shares. In this case, the number of vested Match Shares, less the number of shares withheld to pay your tax obligation, will be deposited in your SHARES account.

It is possible that the taxes the company withholds will differ from the final taxes you will owe when you file your personal annual tax return with the local tax authorities. In some countries, the company is not required to withhold taxes, and instead you (or your personal tax advisor) will need to calculate and pay taxes due on your Match Shares.

34. Am I required to report my Unilever shares to tax or other authorities in my country?

Many countries have their own local rules regarding the reporting of shares of a foreign company and/or shares held outside of the country.

You should check with your own personal financial and/or tax advisors about these reporting requirements for your shares. You also should discuss with your advisors the possibility of future changes in your country's laws, which could impact the reporting for your shares.

35. What will happen to my SHARES account if I die?

If you die, your unvested Match Shares will immediately vest and will be added to your account. The executor, administrator or personal representative of your estate can instruct the administrator to sell or transfer your shares and/or any cash proceeds to another bank or brokerage account.

The administrators have a team of special representatives, who will contact the executor, administrator or the personal representative of your estate to obtain the necessary legal documentation, and then they will provide assistance to execute the transfer or sale of your shares in accordance with the instructions of the executor, administrator or the personal representative of your estate.

If you are in the USA or Puerto Rico, you can designate a beneficiary for both your unvested Match Shares as well as your actual Unilever shares. You will need to complete two separate beneficiary forms as outlined below. Please contact Fidelity if you wish to do this.

Section 5: How SHARES Works in Cash Countries - Computershare only

36. What if I work in a country where Unilever cannot provide Unilever shares? How can I participate in SHARES?

In certain countries regulatory requirements restrict Unilever's ability to issue shares. In those countries Unilever may decide to pay you a cash amount via your country payroll instead of actual shares after the end of the 3-year vesting period.

Under this cash alternative, the monthly contribution amount you choose will be deducted from your salary or wages (after tax) every month (unless local law requires a different process). Every 3 months, you will be credited with Investment Share-equivalents based on the value of your contributions, and for every three Investment Share-equivalents you acquire Unilever will give you one free Match Share-equivalent.

The cash payment you receive from the company after the end of the 3-year vesting period will include the value of your Investment Share-equivalents, Match Share equivalents, and reinvested dividend equivalents earned on both your Investment Share equivalents and your Match Share-equivalents during the 3-year vesting period based on the applicable closing share price on the vesting date.

In most countries, income tax will be due when you receive the cash payment at the end of the 3-year vesting period.

If you are located in one of these 'cash countries', you will receive an invitation when enrolment opens, which will tell you that you are in a cash country, explain how you can enrol in SHARES, and view your shareequivalent balances on the administrator website just like any other SHARES participants.

Just as other participants can cash-out their Investment Shares and reinvested dividend equivalent shares paid on their Investment Shares any time they want, you can cash-out your Investment Share-equivalents and reinvested dividend share-equivalents 'paid' on your Investment Shareequivalents whenever you want by submitting your cash-out request on the administrator website. However, if you cash-out your Investment Shareequivalents prior to the end of the applicable 3-year vesting period, you will forfeit your Match Share-equivalent cash payment. After you submit your cash-out instructions, the administrator will tell your payroll to provide you a cash payment as soon as practicable equal to the value of the shareequivalents you want 'to sell' based on the applicable closing share price on the day you submit your cash-out request. You will not be charged transaction fees when your share-equivalents are cashed out.

To instruct Computershare to cash-out your share-equivalents prior to the end of the 3year vesting period, on the Computershare website:

- On the Overview Homepage, please select the 'Plan Details' tile and click on 'Transact'.
- Please follow the step-by-step instructions to complete your sale. Click on 'Cash Payout' and then click on 'Select'.
- You can select the number of shares you wish to sell and click on 'Next'.
 - You will then be presented with the Terms Agreements. Please tick that you consent to these agreements, then proceed and click on 'Next'.
- Once you agree to these terms, you will see a Summary Page. Please proceed by clicking on 'Place Order'.
- You will then see a confirmation page and you will receive a confirmation email. If you do not receive a confirmation, please review the transaction to see if it was completed correctly.

If you log in Computershare via www.equateplus.com, select the 'SHARES' tile, then 'plan details' and scroll down, you can find the total number of shares you actually own, including your Investment Shares, reinvested dividend shares, and unvested

41. If my name, email address or home address changes, who should I contact to update my Computershare account?

It is important to update your personal information on record with Computershare so that you can receive notices about future SHARES events, such as enrolment periods, share award and vesting dates, as well as updates about your Computershare account.

Active employees must keep their name, email address, and home address up to date in the Unilever Workday system.

42. How can I sell my Unilever shares?

Remember, you can sell your shares at any time; however, if you sell your Investment Shares before the end of the 3-year vesting period, you will lose your free Match Shares, which correspond to the shares you sold. You also will lose any reinvested dividend equivalents earned on those Match Shares during the vesting period.

Generally speaking, you can sell your shares online at Computershare via www.equateplus.com anytime*. After you submit your sale instructions online, the transaction will be processed right away as long as your instructions are received when the applicable stock market is open. If you enter your sale transaction when the stock market is closed, the transaction will be processed when the stock market re-opens.

You will be charged a transaction fee. If the proceeds you receive when you sell your shares are converted to your local currency, the applicable exchange rate at the time of the sale will apply.

- The confirmation will be recorded in your 'Library' and a notification sent via email.
- If you do not receive a confirmation, please review the transaction to see if it was completed correctly.

*Your ability to trade may be restricted at certain times according to Unilever's Share Dealing Code. If you are an 'Insider' you may be required to obtain preclearance prior to selling shares.

43. Can I transfer my Unilever shares to my personal brokerage account? If so, how?

Remember, you can transfer your shares at any time; however, if you transfer your Investment Shares before the end of the 3-year vesting period, you will lose your free Match Shares, which correspond to the shares you transferred. You also will lose any reinvested dividend equivalents earned on those Match Shares during the vesting period.

It is your responsibility to ensure the information you give Computershare is accurate, and you provide accurate information to your personal broker receiving the transaction.

44. Will I be charged fees if I sell or transfer shares in my Computershare account?

Yes. If you decide to sell or transfer your shares, you will be responsible for any related transaction fees. All your transactions will be summarised, showing shares selected, quantity, estimated proceeds and fees.

If you are selling shares, these fees will be deducted from your cash proceeds before the proceeds are delivered to your personal bank account. If you are transferring shares, Computershare will confirm the transfer fees when you complete your transfer confirmation. You will then be prompted to pay the fee online when completing your transfer transaction.

45. If I no longer work for Unilever, can I keep my Unilever shares at Computershare?

After leaving the Unilever Group (as defined in the SHARES Plan) and once your final Matching Award vests, you'll have three months to sell or transfer any shares held in your Computershare account. During this time, you will need to submit your instruction to Computershare as to what you want to do with your shares. If you do not respond before the specified deadline and your shares remain in your Computershare account after the three month deadline, you may be charged a fee by Computershare for the continuing use of the account, and you also understand that your shares may be sold on your behalf, and any sales proceeds may be sent to you (including by cheque to your last known address) or the Company can take any action considered necessary or desirable.

46. Will enrolment instructions be provided in my language?

The Computershare website at www.equateplus.com is translated into a number of languages.
